

KDRY Logistics Announcement

2024

Are you looking for a rewarding career with endless possibilities? Look no further than logistics and supply chain management!

Join the nationally ranked program at Palo Alto College and open doors to a world of opportunities, right here in your community or anywhere in the world. We're the backbone of modern life, ensuring medicine reaches hospitals, food fills grocery stores, and fuel powers transportation. We even play a vital role in construction, manufacturing, and the delivery of everything you use daily.

Women, your attention to detail is highly valued in this field! At Palo Alto College, we offer flexible degree and certificate programs, with online and in-person options. Financial aid and grants are available, and we welcome military transcripts and transfer credits.

Gain real-world experience with industry-leading software, robotics, renowned faculty, and part-time job opportunities for all enrolled students. High school students can even get a head start at CAST STEM High School in Southwest ISD, earning a level 1 logistics certificate while still in school!

Don't miss out on this exciting career path. Call 210-486-3087 or visit alamo.edu/pac/logistics to learn more. Your future in logistics and supply chain management starts now!
